Supplementary materials for

“Photodecomposition of Methylmercury in Atmospheric Waters”

D.R. Bittrich¹, A.P. Rutter¹, B.D. Hall², J.J. Schauer¹*

¹Environmental Chemistry and Technology Program, University of Wisconsin Madison, WI 53705

²Department of Biology, University of Regina, Regina, SK, Canada S4S 0A2
Fig. S1. Characterization of the rain water collected at Devil’s Lake State Park July 9, 2004 for the following constituents: sulfate, nitrate, ammonium, chloride, total dissolved solids (TDS), suspended particulate matter (SPM), total organic carbon (TOC) and dissolved organic carbon (DOC), and soil derived cations.